JOUETT'S CLOSE RACE.

Grand Lodge Meeting of Pythians at Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 26.—The State capital is literally smothered in flags, streamers and bunting in honor of the visiting Grand Lodge, K. of P., which convened in the house of representatives yesterday.

A special train bearing Maj. Gen. Canabhan and the grand officers arrived at 10:30 and was met at the State house gate by the lodges of uniform rank. The Louisville lodges made an especially fine showing in the dress parade, which took in the principal streets of the city. Gov. Bradley delivered the address of welcome on the part of the State and was responded to by the Hon. Thos. B. Matthews, of Boone county. The Governor spoke only briefly, owing to an affection of the throat, but was roundly applauded by the 400 or 500 Pythians who filled the house hall and lodges to overflowing.

Mayor Julian's 15-minute address of welcome to the part of the city was the big bit of the speechmaking exercises and lionized the mayor with all of his hearers. The Hon. Stanley Adams, Grand Chancellor, presented by Mr. M. B. Bowden, of Louisville, who, as usual, captivated both visitors and local people.

The annual election of grand lodge officers took place to-night and resulted as follows: Grand chancellor, J. B. Settle; supreme representatives, T. B. Matthews, Boone county; Chas. F. Minot, Louisville; grand vice chancellor, A. C. Green, Lexington; grand prelate, W. M. Powers, Carrollton; grand keeper records and seal, Wade Sheltman, Louisville; over R. H. Conroy, Cynthiana, and John C. Thomas, Henderson; grand master of the exchequer, Jule Plummer, of Newport. The following were placed in nomination for grand master of arms: J. T. Horner, of Covington; Jouett Henry, of Hopkinsville, and J. B. Thornton, of Somerset. This election was postponed till to-morrow.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 27.—Most of the K. of P. officers were elected last night. Elections were completed this morning by the election of J. T. Horner, Covington, for Grand Master-at-Arms, in a hot contest, over Jouett Henry, of Hopkinsville, and J. B. Thornton, of Somerset; and by the election of R. L. Slade, of Berry, Grand Inward Guard, and Lee Owens, of Frankfort, Grand Outer Guard.

The Democrats of Louisville are united, aggressive and confident.

CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Registration Figures—Female Convicts—Killing in Trigg—Robbed—Court—Mill Burned.

Sent to the Work House.

Carrie Dulin, Mary Tandy, Lula Ogg, Eva Bacon, Mattie Mescham, and Fannie Goodrich, all colored, were taken to the work house Tuesday to serve out old fines. Their sentences range from 15 to 21 days.

Killing Near Roaring Springs.

Tom Tinsley shot and killed Tom Summers near Roaring Springs last Sunday. Tinsley claims that the killing was accidental. He was arrested Monday and lodged in jail at Cadiz. The parties are colored.

Saw Mill Burned.

The sawmill and planing mill belonging to Mr. F. G. Ewing, a few miles from Guthrie, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. About 2,000 feet of fine lumber was also consumed. It is thought that the fire originated from sparks falling in the shavings, or in the sawdust. The loss is estimated at $2,000.

Stabbed Him Twice.

Bad blood had existed between Will Roach and Will Jackson, two colored boys, for some time. They met Wednesday night near the corner of Eighth and Main and renewed the old trouble. Jackson struck Roach with a rock. Roach then drew his knife and cut Jackson twice in the side. The wounds were not serious and both of them were tried yesterday morning and each one was fined $30 and costs.

Common Law Cases.

The Commonwealth's docket for this term of Circuit Court has been disposed of and only common law and equity cases will be heard during the balance of the term. The juries will be dismissed to-morrow.

The suit of L. E. Davison vs. Ed R. Bogard, which has been pending for nearly a year, was decided in favor of defendant yesterday. The plaintiff was represented by Mr. C. H. Bush and the defendant by Allensworth & Anderson.

The Biggest Excursion Yet.

Hopkinsville sent out the biggest excursion yesterday to the Centennial that ever left the city at one time. Four hundred tickets were sold here for the morning trains and 150 more were sold the evening before. Many others were sold at other stations in the county. The accommodation had six coaches and the last train was run in three sections, making about 30 coaches in all. Another big crowd will go to day.

Seized and Robbed.

Owen Sullivan, of Fairview, while enroute home from Pembroke Wednesday afternoon, was seized by two negro men and robbed of $15.05, all the money he had on his person. They suddenly sprang from behind a tree and one of the highwaymen held Sullivan while the other one went through his pockets. As soon as the robbery was committed the negroes fled. Sullivan did not recognize either of them and it is not likely that their names will ever be known.

Gospel Truth Meetings.

A series of gospel meetings, conducted by Evangelist Morton W. Plummer, of Boston, Mass., will commence at the Universalist church, in Hopkinsville, Ky., Wednesday, Nov. 3, 1897, the members of said church having kindly tendered the use of their house for this meeting. Bro. Plummer is a man deeply versed in the Scriptures, and the word of God will be wonderfully taught to believers, and the pure gospel presented to sinners in its simplicity. A set of good things is in store for all having ears to hear and hearts to receive the truth. AUSTIN D. HICKS.

Judge Willis L. Reeves.

Present Circuit Judge, W. L. Reeves, of the Elkton district, who will retire from office Jan. 1, 1898, will shortly afterwards remove to this city to engage in the practice of law. Judge Reeves is a lawyer of ability and successful experience in his profession. He was formerly one of the leaders of the Democratic party in his district, but like some other good men he went astray two years ago and left the party and put behind him all hope of political honors. Judge Reeves is a gentleman of high social standing and his coming will greatly strengthen our local bar in ability. In numbers it is already much crowded, with more than fifty members.

Palma, the Cuban delegate to the United States, says the Cubans will enter into no compromise with Spain, but will continue to fight for absolute independence.

A BURNT PAPER.

All Kentucky Will Hear the Report of Murray's Political Bomb.

TAYLOR DEALS KNOCK-OUT BLOW.

At One Breath Parker Proven a Traitor, Shackelford a Winner, and Breathitt a Dead Duck.

THE BIGGEST CAMPAIGN EXPLOSION.

Murray, Ky., Oct. 25.—Such a political gathering was never seen in this quiet old town as assembled here to day, nor was such a political sensation ever sprung in Calloway county as the one that startled the assembled voters this afternoon. The announcement that James G. Bailey and Jo the discomfort of the Republicans had been printed in circular form with the following introductory, and thousands of them were scattered in the audience:

READ! VOTERS, READ!

The Bailey Parker Breathitt Combine Exposed.

"That Republican money was the mainpring behind the middle of the road Populists and Gold Democrat campaigns in the State has been believed for some time. Now and then evidence of a circumstantial but convincing nature has been offered to confirm the suspicion. Below is given the last link in the chain which fetters one, Jo A. Parker, a supposed candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and by which he is led before the bar of public opinion to receive a just condemnation.

The greatest surprise to the Republicans was the presence of Mr. Taylor in the city. They did not want him to be here and yesterday a report was circulated by well known Democrats that he was in Lyon county and could not be at Murray. He remained Sunday at the residence of a friend, and when he walked upon the stand and faced the vast gathering of people that filled the court-house yard the countenances of Breathitt's lead

Cook from hiding important meetings and reading reports from various parts of the district. His election is now conceded and it is only a question of how much his majority will be.

The letter read by Taylor will force many Populists to vote for Cook after their leader has been shown to be a traitor and working for individual gain alone. Until Taylor finished the letter in his hands the Republican Chairman thought it had been destroyed. A hole had been burned in the top of the letter, which showed that he had attempted to burn it.

The partially burned missive was found on the streets of Murray by a small boy and placed in the hands of well known Democrats, and it proved to be the straw that will break Parker's back, for he cannot deny the genuineness of the letter.

Murray to-day is decorated with flags and bunting. At the northeast corner of the square there is a streamer across the street that reads: "Tom Cook the Calloway boy. Our next Circuit Judge." Just over the speakers stand there is another banner bearing a like inscription.

The enthusiasm is great, and it is now predicted by Cook's friends that he will get at least 2,000 majority in Calloway and 1,000 in the district.

But it is not alone in this judicial district that Taylor's bombshell will have its effect. It will drive thousands of Populists from Parker to Shackelford and insure the election of the Democratic candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

A ROMANTIC TINGE.

The Love That is Kindled in Childhood's Happy Days

LIVES FOR MANY YEARS TO COME

Jerome Johnson, After Eight Years of Separation, Finally Marries the Sweetheart of His Youth—She Was a Widow.

That love will find a way is illustrated in the marriage of Jerome Johnson and Mrs. Susan Barlow, which occurred in this city Saturday night, says the Evansville Courier.

The bride and groom loved each other when they were children. They attended school at Central City, Ky., and at recess and after school it was their custom to take quiet walks through the shaded boughs and talk of the future, which to them was full of promise.

When the young lovers left school they were engaged to be married. The young lady moved into another state and finally located in Evansville. That was eight years ago.

She apparently forgot the young man to whom she had pledged her love in the old Kentucky home, and shortly after coming to this city married another.

When Johnson received the intelligence that his sweetheart had married his heart was broken, but he did not despair. He went to work, determined to live for the love which had been. He secured a position with the old Ohio Valley railroad. He is at present brakeman on the Illinois Central.

Years passed and Johnson still remained single. He did not forget the days of his earlier life and lived on the memories of the past. He could not forget his early love, strive as hard as he might. In his dreams he saw the face of the fair one whom he had determined to love when a mere boy. He is now 30 years old.

Mrs. Barlow's husband died about a year ago and was buried here. Shortly after her husband's death, Mrs. Barlow received a letter from Johnson, whom she had not seen since she was a rosy cheeked, blushing girl, happy and contented without a care. In her bereavement the letter brought consolation and cheer to her, and like a dream the past all came back to her.

She answered the letter and soon received another. A correspondence sprang up between the lovers, Johnson proposed and was accepted. He came on to this city to claim his bride.

Johnson arrived in Evansville Saturday. He sought the home of Mrs. Barlow. She met him at the door and embraced him with her arms around his neck and his hand in hers. She promised to love him as she had loved him once before. For an hour they lived the past over again. In their imagination they saw the old school building in Kentucky, and in their fancy they were walking arm in arm in their favorite places as of years ago.

It was decided to marry immediately. They secured a marriage license and a few weeks were married in the city. The ceremony was performed by J. D. Moore, a Presbyterian minister.

THE PULLMAN MILLIONS.

There is Much Speculation As To His Will. Chicago, Oct. 25.—What is to be come of George Pullman's $50,000,000? Did he leave that much? and questions of that sort are being asked on all hands. The property left is so vast that it may take several days to estimate its value as the law requires. All sorts of stories are current in financial circles over the Pullman will.

It was said positively that the estate was not worth over $20,000,000 or $25,000,000. Some well known LaSalle street men, however, say that George M. Pullman's income averaged $10,000,000 annually for a number of years. Mr. Lincoln said to day that there were a great number of public bequestes; but refused to give them out. Neither of the executors of the will would confirm or deny the statement that Mr. Pullman had disinherited his sons, George M. and Sanger W. Pullman. Neither of the young are said to be violently drawn toward a business career. And for that reason it has been declared that the bulk of the property is left to the widow and Mrs. Frank Lowden, daughter of the deceased. The university fund has been declared that the bulk of the property is left to the widow and Mrs. Frank Lowden, daughter of the deceased. The university fund has been declared that the bulk of the property is left to the widow and Mrs. Frank Lowden, daughter of the deceased.

KLONDIKE SITUATION.

Dawson Has a Large Population and Little to Eat.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Letters and telegrams received at the War Department to day indicate a bad state of affairs in the Klondike country. Dawson City has a small supply of provisions and a large population. F. B. Wear, President of the North American Transportation and Trading Company, has written to Secretary Alger that the residents of Dawson were informed of the failure to get provisions through to them. He thought the news got there by Sept. 15, leaving time for those who had no supplies to get down the Yukon River to St. Michaels, where provisions were plentiful.

Shot Five Times.

Clarksville, Tenn., Oct. 25.—Elmo Clark shot James Franklin five times with a revolver yesterday at a camp on Bear Springs railroad in Stewart county, killing him. They disputed over a woman. Offord claims self defense, but the Coroner's jury decided it was willful murder. Offord escaped.

Horses Standing in Streets.

In Chicago a card is published bearing on one side the ordinance giving the right of way to street cars, and on the other a picture showing the proper position for vehicles left standing in the street. When the vehicle is backed up against the curbstone the horse should be turned so as to stand looking in the direction the cars are going—not coming—on the nearest railway track. Then, should the horse start forward as a car passes, the car will hit the shafts from behind, and no damage is likely. If, on the other hand, the car strikes a shaft pointed in the opposite direction, the shaft will run into the car, and a smash-up and probable injury to passengers is likely. The placing of the horse in position so as to move with the car is well worth the careful attention of drivers.

"Leader (of vigilantes)—"We're going to lynch you, but we'll give you the choice of the way it's done." Horse-thief—"Oh, thank you, gentlemen, thank you! You may lynch me in effigy."—Chicago Tribune.

"The theater-hat crusade has added a lot to the expense of managers." "In what way?" "Why, now that the scenery is in plain sight of the audience, it is necessary to have it of better quality."—Chicago Evening Post.

"Chronic Patient—"Doctor, what do you consider my worst trouble?" Physician—"My friend, to be entirely frank, the worst trouble there is about you is that it takes too long a time to collect a bill from you."—Chicago Tribune.

"Mixed Formula"—Hawkins—"I won't let a church sexton have charge of our wedding." Miss Giles—"Why?" Hawkins—"When Tompkins married Miss Brown, he got the notice of the church sexton." Suddenly, on the 10th instant. —Hartford Life.

HEADQUARTERS
Republican
Executive Committee
OF KENTUCKY.

K. J. HAMPTON, Ch'm. R. L. GATHWINE, Sec. R. H. DORN, Treas.
Winchester, Ky. Anchorage, Ky. Louisville, Ky.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 14, 1897.

W. B. Graham, Murray, Ky:

My Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your letter of October 12 and have announced a joint debate between Parker and Bailey on the 25. I am satisfied that the speeches there will do great good, because Parker preaches middle-of-the-road doctrine from the shoulder and is fighting Democratic and Populist fusion. Confidentially, I had a long talk with Parker last night about this, and he is very anxious to get out in that county and see Mr. Keys and get him interested. PARKER IS HIMSELF FOR JUDGE BREATHITT and will urge his friends to vote for him—also your county ticket. If you will give them a great crowd and let them hear Parker and Bailey, I am satisfied it will do lots of good.

I have it from a very reliable source—a Democrat, by the way—that the Democrats are going to steal all the votes they possibly can. He came to me with this warning statement, that I had best look after it. Now, I would suggest to you that you give special attention to the Tennessee border line, to allow no repeating, and appoint challengers who will stand up and fight for our interests if you cannot get a good election board.

The prospects are good for a victory and I hope to hear good reports from your section of the State, and will expect you to keep Shackelford's vote down to 1,000. (Signed,)

K. J. Hampton.

A. Parker, Republican and Populist candidates for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, would speak here brought out some of the crowd and the fact that the hard fought battle for Circuit Judge between Judge Thomas P. Cook, of this place, and James Breathitt, of Christian county, was drawing to a close drew others to Murray.

Ollie James, the Crittenden county giant, is also here and many came to hear him eat up a few Republicans for afternoon lunch. Other noted speakers were billed to be here, and there are at least 5,000 voters in the town of Murray.

Parker and Bailey spoke this morning, and at the close of their speeches the great political sensation was sprung on the crowd.

Hon. L. K. Taylor, of Paducah, walked upon the stand and read a letter, a fac simile of which appears in these columns.

When Mr. Taylor had finished the immense crowd went wild with enthusiasm and made the old town ring with their yells for Democracy. Such a political scene was never before witnessed in this county. To add to ers fell, for they expected something to drop, and it did drop. After having read the letter Mr. Taylor delivered an hour's speech to denouncing Jo A. Parker as being a traitor to Populism, silver and Democracy, and secretly working to aid the Republican State ticket. He showed that gentleman up in a bad light and caused what few supporters he had here to abandon his cause. The speaker showed that Parker had assisted the Republicans to get hold of Kentucky and also pointed beyond a doubt that he wrote a letter to W. J. Edgington, member of the Legislature from Ballard and Carlisle, urging him to vote for Hunter for United States Senator. Mr. Taylor read this letter, also, and showed how Parker, in his paper at Louisville, had misprinted several words in the letter in order to change the entire meaning of the letter, changing the word "ruin" into "win." The original copy yet in the hands of well known Populists and his comparison between the original and the one printed in Parker's paper is sufficient proof that he has proven himself a traitor.

Judge Breathitt remained here yesterday and held frequent hurried interviews in his room with his Master Commissioner and a few other Republicans. He was in the vigilance committee on the alert all day, but he did not keep the friends of Judge

JOLLY HOUSE PARTY.

Hospitality of Young Englishmen Housed in a Northwest Shack.

I think both the shacks and their owners are at their very best when a jolly party is on. The shacks, to begin with, writes Abbe Carter Gooden, in Scribner's, are preternaturally clean, and the young Englishmen most extraordinarily polite and agreeable. They do things on a large scale and in a grand manner. When the six or eight Englishmen who constitute a crack polo team, and who fortunately have neighboring shacks, invite 80 people with their traps and tents and servants, and two other crack polo teams with 30 or 40 polo ponies, and the horses they ride or drive and the half-breds who bring the ponies and the Indians who always turn up, and when one reflects that all these people and horses are to stay for two days and that the shacks are 70 miles from a railroad and 35 miles from the nearest town and provisions and a great many other things, one is divided between admiration for their hospitality and distress at all the trouble one is inevitably giving them. And when, as happened in our case, a regular blizzard came up and all the 80 people and ponies and servants and the great many other things, one is divided between admiration for their hospitality and distress at all the trouble one is inevitably giving them. And when, as happened in our case, a regular blizzard came up and all the 80 people and ponies and servants and the great many other things, one is divided between admiration for their hospitality and distress at all the trouble one is inevitably giving them.

There came over her a feeling of unbearable regret. With a few words she had destroyed something she never could get back again. And this something now it was lost, seemed dearer to her than all else in the world. She did not know him well; she had not succeeded in getting an answer to the question, what it was she liked in him, but the power that first drew her to him rose now in redoubled might. The divine, incomprehensible mystery she had tried to explain, but only succeeded in silencing, awoke to life within her again. And now it was too late. What could have the power to efface her words?

"Ah! you are afraid of hardships!" His voice sounded heavy and his eyes looked far away over the broad meadows visible through the opening in the trees. "Then it would be best for you to reconsider," he continued. "I am a business man, and my position is not firmly secured; one day there may be money, another day there may be nothing. And upon one kind of hardship others follow."

THE CONTRACT.

An Interesting Document Filed in a Common Pleas Court.

A Mrs. Cohen appeared in Cleveland last month alone in search of her husband, who, she says, deserted her in London about nine years ago. Isaac Cohen, aged 34, was the derelict husband. Mrs. Cohen said that Cohen has not acted in accordance with the promises he made in London in 1883, when the covenant of marriage was entered into, as she claims. An abstract of the covenant of marriage, and the proceedings recently begun has in her possession is an interesting document. The obverse side is printed in Hebrew and on the reverse side is the following:

"On the fourth day of the week, the twentieth day of the month, Shebat, in the year 5643, a. m., corresponding to the 31st of January, 1883, the holy covenant of marriage was entered into in London, between the bridegroom, Isaac Cohen, and his bride, Rose Simmons."

"It is said the bridegroom made the following declaration to his bride:

"Thou my wife according to the law of Moses and of Israel. I faithfully promise that I will be a true husband unto thee. I will honor and cherish thee; I will work for thee; I will protect and support thee, and will provide all that is necessary for thy due sustenance, even as it became a Jewish husband to do. I also take upon myself all such further obligations for thy maintenance, during thy lifetime, as is prescribed by our religious statute."

"And the said bride has pledged her troth unto him, in affection and sincerity, and has thus taken upon herself the fulfillment of all the duties incumbent upon a Jewish wife."

"This covenant of marriage was duly executed and witnessed by me, according to the usage of Israel,"—Cleveland Leader.

Very Pretty.

South American lovers have a pretty custom. It is well known that when the petals of the great red and magnolia are touched, however lightly, the result is a brown spot, which develops in a few hours. The fact is taken advantage of by the lover, who pulls a magnolia flower, and on one of its pure, white petals writes a motto or message with his hand, sharp-pointed pencil. Then he sends the flower, the young lady puts it in a vase of water, and in three or four hours the message written on the leaf becomes quite visible and remains so.

An Infallible Sign.

"How do you know that his love dream is over?"

"Because I heard him tell Hetty, as they left church last night, that he knew a shorter way of teaching her than the route they had been taking."—Detroit Free Press.

lup his composure she began to set forth her faults. She unveiled every bad trait she had. She was quick tempered and a scold; she was envious and coquettish; she was stupid and ignorant. She sat and reckoned herself up in a serious voice she spoke frankly and she honestly wished to be believed. But the smile did not leave his lips, nor did he take his eyes from her face. At each new confession he simply repeated:

"Yes, I know that before."

Finally the blood rushed to her head. It annoyed her to find she could not convince him. He sat in the scene before her that she wished only to humble herself because of her great happiness. Could he not comprehend at all that he had done wrong in surprising her as he had, and that a person cannot be sure of a love so loosely rooted?

She knew of a way to make him understand, but her tongue seemed tied when she tried to speak. She sat silent for a few minutes, struggling between fright and the desire to have her will. Finally the desired triumph came. "No, you do not know me," said she; "when I answered you as I did this morning it was because . . . but perhaps partly because . . . because of hardships at home."

There was an arm and leg was gazing at her without a word, but the color was gone from his face. She noted worry no longer about his not understanding.

There came over her a feeling of unbearable regret. With a few words she had destroyed something she never could get back again. And this something now it was lost, seemed dearer to her than all else in the world. She did not know him well; she had not succeeded in getting an answer to the question, what it was she liked in him, but the power that first drew her to him rose now in redoubled might. The divine, incomprehensible mystery she had tried to explain, but only succeeded in silencing, awoke to life within her again. And now it was too late. And upon one kind of hardship others follow."

The money stood empty. She had not passed the garden gate; they opened it, and went into the house, to her parents.—International Magazine.

A Bride's Outfit.

A marriage which recalls some of the marriages in England in the days when a newly-made husband was held by the law responsible for anything his bride wore on her wedding day took place at the end of last month in a North Carolina high road in Johnston county. The bridegroom and his bride were barefooted. He wore a hat and a shirt and a pair of trousers, and she wore only a calico dress and a poke bonnet. It is recorded in the parish records that one Annie Sellwood was married at Chiltern All Saints in 1712 "wearing only her shift." But her husband had a legal reason for wanting her only in that garment.

Modern Dainties.

Many of the fruits and vegetables now eaten in England were almost unknown to our forefathers. Not until Henry VII.'s time were either raspberries, or strawberries, or cherries grown in England, and we do not read of the turnip, cauliflower and quince being cultivated before the sixteenth century, or the carrot before the seventeenth century.

An Immense Farm.

The largest farm in this country, probably in the world, is in Louisiana. It extends 100 miles east and west. It contained, at the time of its purchase by a syndicate of northern capitalists, 1,500,000 acres. The fencing is said to have cost $30,000. The Southern Pacific railroad runs for 36 miles through the farm.

The wise man never has a great head on his shoulders the next morning.—Chicago News.

For Mothers!

These discomforts and dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Winsor's Castor relieves expectant mothers. It gives tone to the genital organs, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

McELEE'S Wine of Cardui has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. As a doctor often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman would neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the Ladies' Advice Dispensary, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. LOUISA HALL, of Jefferson, Ga., says: "When I first took Wine of Cardui we had been married three years, but could not have any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

A FRIEND OF LONG AGO.

In the attic, neglected and covered with dust.

Must old boxes and other things carelessly thrust.

There rests, at the end of his glorious career,

What is left of our thoroughbred, bold, roving horse.

The skin-covered body is all that is left of the beauty that one Christmas dangled in my view.

As I pondered how he and old Santa Claus, who ever comes down that chimney so murky and small—

A problem I never could fathom at all.

Ah, he was a horse, thought I, no young Lochinvar on his charger so fast and so strong.

Ever rode on his charger so fast and so strong.

And all of my brothers, with reins taut and neck,

Through all manner of dangers rode safe on his back.

Adventures we had under every sky.

For have we been found, by the hunter's eye,

While Marion's men in the thick of the night

We have charged on the British and put them to flight.

Where thousands of cannons have volleyed

We boldly charged with the gallant Six Hundred!

We have hunted the buffaloes over the plains.

With Indians fought and never been slain;

Though tangled and wild is the elephant's lair.

We often have hunted and captured him there.

And we always were eager and forward to fight.

To succor unfortunate maids in distress.

How it pains me to think of that beauty's decay!

As his bright eyes fell out and his mane fell away.

Yet still he was hearty and active and hale.

And the baby made off with his tail.

After his race was almost complete.

For he had a bad fall and broke two of his legs.

From that he kept sinking still faster and faster.

'Till the day of his head was his final distress.

Then, the day of his beauty and usefulness past.

To the gloom

—Judge Cook has made a gallant fight. He has proven himself a leader the people delight to follow. Wherever he has gone he has managed to secure an advantage over his opponent and leave his followers filled with confidence and enthusiasm. He deserves to win and he will win. His vote in Christian county next Tuesday will surprise the whole district.

Let every Democrat in Christian county go to the polls next Tuesday and do his full duty. The county ticket has victory within its grasp. There are 3150 Democrats in this county and if all or them vote next Tuesday the entire reform ticket will be elected. Be sure to vote and see that your neighbors vote.

Van Wyck, the Tammany Democrat, has a clear and strong lead in the fight for Mayor of New York. Low is next and George third. Tracy, Republican, is considered out of the race and the Low organs are charging that Platt will throw Tracy's strength to Van Wyck, as the result of a deal. Bets are 5 to 3 in favor of Van Wyck.

Charlie Wheeler is speaking in Trigg county this week. He will close at Cadiz to-morrow.

County Teachers' Association.
The Christian County Teachers' Association will convene at Herndon, on Saturday, Nov. 6, 1897, at 10 o'clock. All teachers, trustees, patrons and friends of education, are cordially invited to attend and may rest assured of a hearty welcome. The districts included are Nos. 10, 12, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

Nobody is now claiming that Judge Breathitt will be elected.

Bourke Cochran has landed in the Republican party and will take the stump for the Tracy ticket in the Greater New York campaign.

Hopkins county is to be congratulated. The county has finished paying off its railroad debt and the tax rate has been reduced from fifty to thirty cents.

Mr. S. C. Mercer has closed a trade for the fire works display at Mercer park within the next week or two, the exact date being still unsixed. The program will be out in a few days.

Capt. John C. Dabney says in a letter to the Murray Ledger that Trigg will give Cook 400 majority. And Lyon—well, just wait till you hear from little Lyon.

The Nashville Centennial will close to-morrow, and the closing days are witnessing the greatest crowds of the show. The attendance to-day and to-morrow is expected to aggregate 100,000 people.

Things are at a white heat down in Caloway. Cook's friends will not be satisfied with a vote less than 2,000 majority. Indications now are that Cook will come to Christian county with 2,500 majority.

The yellow fever report of Wednesday showed that the disease now prevails in 26 cities and towns. There had been 3,728 cases and 265 deaths all told. No improvement is looked for until cold weather, which may not come for several weeks in the South.

There is a hot fight in progress in Gov. Buckner's county. Hart gave 40 majority for McKinley. This year there are two fusion tickets. Democrats and Populists are under the roster and Republicans and Nationalists under the log cabin.

The Court of Appeals has decided that county clerks are compelled to put the names of nominees on the official ballots, no matter if all of the directory requirements of the election law have not been complied with. In other words, technical errors in certificates do not invalidate them, if the main facts are clearly set forth.

McKinley did not have the nerve to let Hanna's deal with the Union Pacific road grabbers stand. Such a clamor was raised by the newspapers over the threatened robbery of the government to the extent of $20,000,000 that the sale has been postponed from Nov. 2 till Dec. 15, and a new syndicate will bid for the property and make it bring its value.

An Abscess

In the Stomach Caused Great Suffering—Was Confined to the Bed But Now Able to Work.
"In October, 1885, I had an abscess in my stomach. I was also taken with pleurisy and coughed very badly. I was treated by physicians but did not improve. I gave up all hope of ever getting well. My right side was swollen and I was not able to walk across the room and was confined to my bed. I was advised to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and began taking it. In three days I could see a change for the better. I kept on taking Hood's Sarsaparilla until I had taken four bottles and continued to improve. I am now able to do a good day's work on the farm."

NO IMPROVEMENT.
Yellow Fever Now Has a Firm Hold at Memphis.
New Orleans, Oct. 27.—The yellow fever situation here shows no improvement. The record for the day is fifty-two new cases and eleven deaths. The number of deaths equals the highest so far reported for any one day.

Total cases to date are 1,821, and total deaths 150. There are now under treatment 539 cases.
The situation elsewhere is as follows:
Scranton, Miss.—Nine new cases and one death.
Pascagoula—Two new cases.
Baton Rouge—One new case.
Biloxi—Twelve new cases.
Bay St. Louis—Five new cases.
Memphis—Two new cases and one death.
Mobile—Four new cases and two deaths in the city and one in the suburbs.

There are two new cases reported at Cayuga, Miss., and one at the Illinois county convict farm, near Raymond, Miss.
On account of the prevailing warm weather, the health authorities of Jackson, Miss., have resented their order admitting residents of that city on and after to-morrow.

Memphis, Oct. 27.—The yellow fever situation to night is about the same as it was yesterday.
There are four new cases, with two deaths to day.
Several cases are under suspicion. The manufacturing people are leaving quite freely, but there is very little stir or exodus among the business element. A good many are taking the precaution to send their families away.

The weather is cloudy and rain is expected to-night.
The Total Registration.
The supplemental registration Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday resulted in the addition of 111 names to the lists, 4 more than were registered by a canvass last year. Of these, 72 were white and 39 colored. They are divided by precincts as follows:
In No. 1, 23 white, 6 colored; No. 2, 8 white, 20 colored; No. 3, 25 white, 10 colored; No. 4, 16 white, 3 colored.

These additions bring the totals up to the following figures:
No. 1—C. H. 208 197 305
No. 2—Wheeler 28 298 306 309
No. 3—P. O. 444 275 469 482
No. 4—Gather 190 186 148 278
602 641 1514 1585
Last year there were 910 white and 628 colored. There is a gain in the colored vote of 13 and white loss of 8 votes.

There is unusual variety of exceptionally interesting material in the November Scribner's. The opening paper, the seventh of the "Conduct of Great Business," is by William Allen White, author of the famous article on "What's the Matter with Kansas?" and the delightful stories of "Boyville." It deals with "The Business of a Wheat Farm" and is the first adequate account of the great bonanza farms of the West, whose annual production is such an important element in the rise and fall of wheat prices. Mr. White has studied them not only for the purpose of accurately describing them in terms of acres and bushels and dollars, but with an eye also for the picturesque and varied human aspects.

W. B. Leigh, the artist, who visited the region especially for the magazine, has made a number of graphic and spirited pictures that give a very clear impression of the lively scenes harvesting time, the wide extent of territory covered, and the great number of machines, men and horses employed during the busy season.

GATHERING IN THE CONVERTS.
The Good Effects of the Sam Jones Revival
Now Apparent.
Every church in the city and several in the county have been benefited by the Sam Jones meeting held last week, as evidenced by the addition to the membership of the various churches. Cards containing the names and addresses of over 200 persons who say they have determined to lead better lives have been received by the pastor of the city churches.

The Rev. J. M. Sallee, pastor of the Baptist church has received 63 of these cards. The First and Second Presbyterian churches each second with 54, and the Methodist church 50 and the Episcopal 12. The remainder of the cards are in the hands of the pastors of the churches. The bene-dicted prayer, has written Mr. Browder that he will help him in the meeting next week.—Gleaner.

Parker Files the Complaint.
Murray, Ky., Oct. 26.—Joe Parker was so chagrined over his shameful exposure here, that he canceled his Marshall county appointments this afternoon and left for Louisville, going all the way around by Nashville, Tenn., to get out of this section as quickly as possible.

He Lived Long.
Mr. John L. Peyton, the oldest man in Madisonville, and perhaps in Hopkins county, died at his home, yesterday morning. He was over 90 years of age. Our people all knew him, hence we feel that it is unnecessary to say anything further than that he is no more of this world.—Herald.

SYPHILIS—Mortars.—Intense itching and stinging and smarting, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue, tumors form, which often bleed, and, becoming very sore, cause the patient's distress. Stops the itching and itching, breaks the sores, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail on 25 cents. Dr. S. W. Bugar & Son, Philadelphia.

The Stormy Gulf.
The Gulf of Mexico is a water of storms, not frequent, but frenziedly violent. It is, in effect, an immense scarp cut from the land, and hurricanes seem to gravitate to it naturally. They are born in the neighborhood of the Sargasso sea, strike the West Indies and not infrequently leave far and wide a tangent, just as a ball thrown at an oblique angle against a wall slides along it for a little space and again seeks vacancy. These erratic forces of the air strike the coast of Mexico, or the coast of Texas, according to their angle, and death is in the air. The things called "tidal waves" in that section are not really tidal waves. They are not caused by an upheaval. They are merely local in effect. They are not vast walls of water moving with resistless speed and weight over the face of the ocean. They are waters banked up against a low coast by wind pressure and they overflow. In many instances the submergence is gradual and ample opportunity for escape is given. Other times the violence of the air makes them sudden and the people are drowned.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Life Is Good.
After all regrets, life is good—to see the face of truth and enjoy the beauty of tears and smiles; to know one's self a man, and live with his longings to manhood—all this is a blessing that may console us for all wants, and that sickness and sorrow, and one may trust, death, cannot take away.—John Stirling.

The Twice-a-Week Republic and KENTUCKIAN BOTH ONE YEAR. $2.25.

It is scarcely necessary to call attention to the superior merits of The Twice-a-Week edition of The St. Louis Republic as a newspaper.

It has so many advantages as a new gatherer, that no other paper can claim to be its equal. The whole field of news is covered thoroughly. The special features and illustrations are always the best. More noted writers contribute to its columns than to any other paper of its class. It is published especially to meet the wants of that large class of readers who have not the opportunity or can not afford to read a daily paper.

It is the leading Democratic paper of the Mississippi Valley and the South and West. By a special arrangement made for a limited time only, our friends will be given an opportunity to take advantage of this liberal proposition.

Remember the offer. The Twice-a-Week Republic, 16 pages a week, and the Kentuckian, both one year for only $2.25.

IN A JAM.

He Only Had a Day, and There Were Three to Risk.

He was a well-dressed young fellow, and the girls with him were two as pretty specimens of what Chicago air and food can turn out as one could wish to see, and they looked uneasy and listened in a half-hearted way to the sallies of his companions.

One of them, a dashing little brunette of 18, endeavored several times to arouse him from his fit of abstraction, but in vain, and at last she turned to the other girl, a stately blond of 23 or 24, and exclaimed, pettishly:

"Some one's wife has gone chasing after another girl, for I've done and said everything to amuse him, and just look at his face."

The blond laughed, perhaps a little provokingly, as she replied:

"Yes, you have done your best, but—and there was eloquence in that pause."

"Well, try your hand, then," returned the brunette. "Why he even isn't paying any attention to us now, while we are talking about him, are you?" turning again to the young man.

"I beg pardon, yes; did you speak to me?" stammered the young man, flushing and looking from one girl to the other.

"Of course we did," returned the brunette. "We've been doing nothing else for the last half-hour, but if you are going to be so uninteresting I'd just as lief go home. Anyway, it's nearly dinner time, so we had better start. Don't you think so?" turning to the blond.

"Yes, I do. The park's some distance from home, and it will take us at least 15 minutes to ride there, you know."

"Of course it will. Which is the nearest way to the cable," answered the brunette, looking about her in bewilderment.

The young man's face became crimson. He stammered until even the blond's patience became exhausted. Looking him over in a freezing manner, she said in a tone which reminded him of January weather after a big snowstorm:

"What is the matter? Have you lost your way? If you have we can call a policeman."

"No—that is, of course not. The cable is out this way," returned the young man, walking dejectedly ahead and looking as though he were going to the scaffold. The two girls exchanged glances and the brunette giggled, but conversation languished until a car was hailed, and the young man started to help the girls upon it.

Then, as the girls suddenly overcame their illness, he staggered and declared he could not accompany them. The girls refused to get on the car, and were so sweet and tender in their expressions of sympathy that he had difficulty in inducing them to take the next one, promising to follow as soon as he had interviewed a physician. As he helped them on the car and pressed a dime into the hand of the blond for their car fare, his face looked brighter, and he muttered to himself as the car vanished in the distance and he prepared to follow it on foot.

"Well, that's the tightest hole I was ever in. To think that I should have been reduced to my last dime because I forgot I had torn my pocket!"—Chicago Chronicle.

Life of Presidents.

Life and death among our presidents is always an interesting subject. William Henry Harrison was the oldest man to become president. He took office at 67 and lasted one month. The military hero among the presidents were advanced in years. Jackson being 62 at the time of inauguration and Taylor 65. One-third of all the presidents have died in July and half of them in July and June. John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe died on the same date, July 4, and James A. Garfield was shot July 2. Martin Van Buren was the longest lived of the presidents, reaching his eightieth year. The average duration of life of the presidents of the United States has been 72 years and eight months.

Chinese Doctor.

No one disputed the dictum of a Chinese physician who had been fainting in a store at Portland, Ore., when the doctor said, after feeling the prostrate man's mouth and neck with red paint: "Tim blow out him, him all same not yell dead; no not catch 'im wind, no blow out paint, him very dead." The man didn't blow out the paint and the corner was called.

No Need of Any Fence.

A colored deacon of Chester, Pa., while on a trolley car asked an acquaintance, who was also a colored man, for a contribution to aid in erecting a fence around a graveyard. He refused, with this philosophical reply: "What 'out want a fence round dat graveyard for? Live pussons don't want to get in, and 'im dog gone sure de dead ones ain't gwine to try an' git out."

BROWN FOR AUTUMN.

Coming in with the Fall of Violets is Spring.

If Easter brings out the violet tones, October brings out the browns and russets. This is particularly the case this fall, when the shop windows are filled with their golden hues.

A dress worn by a well-known New York woman who takes a walk daily in Central Park was of novelty goods in russet, with a small design in black upon the surface. The skirt had a heavy look without being of heavy weight, and around the foot was an old-fashioned border of deep-brown satin. The waist had a very pretty vest effect, which was made by introducing a yoke of yellow satin down each side of which extended a point of white embroidery. Upon the shoulders there were epaulettes of the novelty goods finished with bows of brown satin.

It is rather remarkable that white embroidery should continue to be the trimming into the fall, but such is the case.

"It is made of a steamer rug, which is of a deep blue and deep green pattern in a wavy grain. The under side is of very light blue and light green in almost a check."

"The skirt is plain. It is a saddle skirt with a gold in the back. Around the foot the steamer rug is turned up, making a deep hem of the reverse material. The waist is a combination of the same. Norfolk jacket with two bands of the reverse cloth down the front. The collar is of the same."

The hat which was sent me to wear with this suit is a gray alpaca with a black wing stuck smartly up at each side. Very truly yours, M. B."

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring out a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long drawn out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula, or consumption. "That," he will tell you "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microscope hunter and killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood, encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 28 per cent. of all consumptions also of all other lung troubles, bronchitis, throat and lung diseases.

The attention of our readers is called to the statement of the condition of the City Bank of Hopkinsville of the close of business Oct. 25, 1897. As shown by the figures this banking condition is in a very healthy and prosperous condition and the fact is largely due to its excellent management. The deposits at this time amount to more than double those footed up in the last report of the institution and they are daily increasing.

Woman Author Of A Problem Novel.
"Smoking Flax" is the title of a story whose author is Hallie Erminie Rives, a gifted young Kentuckian, who is a connection of Amelie Rives, the famous author of the most sensational novel of its time, "The Quick or the Dead?"

Miss Hallie Erminie Rives has written a number of successful romantic stories which are better known in the South than here. Miss Rives also enjoys the distinction of having had her portrait chosen from among hundreds of likenesses of beautiful Southerners as the most typically lovely embodiment of the Blue Grass women. Miss Rives has written a number of prize stories. Her latest literary venture finds a New York publisher, and will doubtless create much discussion, inasmuch as it deals with the Lynch law question.

The accompanying photographs were taken by the Sunday World's photographer, and show Miss Rives in familiar attitudes as she appears in her New York home.—N. Y. World.

MATRIMONIAL.

Exposition's Last Week.

The Tennessee Centennial Exposition will positively close to-morrow Saturday, October 30th. For six months it has been running with at times varying from day to day, and now ends of people have been going there from week to week from every State in the Union. From not a single one of the two million visitors has there been heard anything but praise of the Exposition, and admiration of the pluck of a city of one hundred thousand people that could prepare such a show at times like these.

During this week every day will be a big day, and while Thursday and Saturday being President Thomas Day and the Closing Day respectively, will have the largest crowds in attendance, there will be no day when the grounds are not thronged with visitors. For many thousands of people who have been putting off until the last to visit this great Exposition have but two days now left to decide, and all those who do not go will feel regret for the rest of their life. It is an education in itself to see the wonderfully varied exhibits in the many large buildings and especially an education to Tennesseeans to see the products of their own State so grouped and arranged that a child can understand their wonderful variety and richness.

Every night of the last week there will be a grand fireworks display. Each day of the two closing days should see, among the untold thousands who will be here, a large proportion of Tennesseeans.

The grounds themselves are now at the best, millions and millions of blooming flowers making the landscape bright and loading the atmosphere with perfume. The exhibits have long since been completed.

The Bell Telephone Company here gives two great concerts daily, either one of which is worth more than the price of admission. It is an opportunity of a life-time for all who have not been.

For Benefit Library Association.

Polk Miller, Oscar Sisson and Ester Wallace, will make an extensive tour of the North and South during this season. Messrs. Leath and Smith, under whose management the trio of stars will be this season, have made no hesitation in making their tour include every city of importance in the United States, as the success they have made in the past as individual stars, warrants that their associating with men of an enterprising spirit that will meet with praise and success everywhere.

Mr. Miller has through his careful study of the negro and his characteristics developed a sketch that has made his staunch reputation, and given him imitators on the vaudeville stage. Mr. Miller carries the considerable endorsement of all the prominent critics and editors of the country. His part of the entertainment is in the form of a play, a delineator of the negro. He tells, in every thing, many amusing stories of the different personages he has met in his former tours.

Oscar Sisson and Miss Ester Wallace, his fair and pretty partner, have a high standing upon the legitimate stage where they have become recognized stars. As a center piece to the entertainment they produce a one act farce comedy that is variegated with many catchy songs and dances, and bits of dialogue that are witty to the point.

Miss Wallace has a strong and healthy mezzo soprano voice that is only one of the many charms of the vivacious young comedienne possessess. At Opera House, Wednesday, Nov. 3, Library Association. Tickets at Galbreath's; 75c, 50c, 35c and 25c.

ADVISE TO THE W. C. T. U.

Physical Culture Lecturer Endorses Paine's Celery Compound.

Miss Lucy H. Hitchcock, lecturer, department of physical culture, Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Vermont, wrote on May 15, last:

"It affords me pleasure to add my testimony with others regarding the healing effects of Paine's celery compound upon an exhausted nervous system."
Aug. 12, 1897, she wrote: "As a rule I do not endorse medicines, but I believe Paine's celery compound to be of a different order from the ordinary medicines. Facts cannot be disputed. I have derived so much benefit from the compound that I am glad to heartily recommend it, hoping others similarly afflicted may be relieved. Any medicine that will relieve suffering humanity is a blessing to the world."

A blessing to the world!
Paine's celery compound has been proven to be the one great remedy that really makes people well. This estimable woman, whose Christian work is earnestly directed toward the betterment of others, and whose eminence in the W. C. T. U. makes her advice of great value, plainly endorses Paine's celery compound.

The amount of poor health on every hand is something shocking to everyone who sleeps to think. Hundreds of men and women in every neighborhood are today carrying about with them a needless load of ailments that a thorough refreshing of their nerves, a purifying of their blood, more sleep and more regularity in the bodily functions would completely do away with. Paine's celery compound will do all this for sick and ailing men and women.

Headaches, rheumatism, neuralgia, lifeless feelings, and debility cannot persist when intelligently met and corrected by this greatest of nerve and brain strengtheners. No remedy ever kept the confidence of so large a body of suffering men and women. Try it.
